I am Adit Kulkarni, and I am campaigning for the position of VP Campus Life this year. Building a group of friends during the beginning of my first year as an International student has always been fun. I have been actively involved in several events, including the gatherings at the well and the ballroom, along with the sports tournaments held at Nonis. I have coordinated many hikes and events in my home country for groups of approximately 50 people or more. As I begin my 3rd year at the University, one thing I noticed is that many students are by themselves. I kept reflecting on their feelings of having no one to share conversations with or enjoy their university experience. Having previously interacted with students, I understand that being a student and forming friendships can be quite challenging for those who are anxious or shy when approaching others. The cultural variety at the gatherings is still a concern. And particularly for individuals arriving from abroad, a new environment, fresh ambitions, and the desire to create new friendships to experience university life together. As the VP of campus life, I will engage them in parties or their preferred clubs or any other activities they wish to join. This provides them with a chance to form friendships and enjoy the University life that everyone at UBCO desires. To address the issue of cultural differences, many parties will be organized, and I will conduct a poll each month regarding a specific party theme. This way, I can gather diverse responses from different cultures, ensuring representation from students of all backgrounds.

Platform points

- Diversity at parties
- Monthly outdoor events like karting, bowling and climbing
- Monthly student mental awareness meeting where students can express their concerns and open up.
- Host various events that give all the talented students of UBCO an opportunity to make themselves known.
- Frequent live screenings at the Well.
- At Least one building that is open all night for the students to study.
