Hello! My name is Shreya Patnaik, and I am a second-year student majoring in Economics. I am excited to be running for the position of Vice-President Internal for the SUO. From my high school years, I have actively engaged in student leadership, serving as the Vice Head Girl and the Head Girl of the Student Council. I was also appointed as the Chairperson of a major annual event in my school called the "UNWIND". My responsibility was to persuade major business establishments to donate the project in exchange for displaying their advertisements in the event. I also invested my time and effort towards the "Hundred Libraries Project" which aimed to establish well stocked libraries in schools and provide under privileged children the access to quality education. As the Secretary General of my school's Model United Nations (MUN), I was responsible for overseeing conference operations, setting the agenda, and ensuring smooth coordination among committees. This commitment to advocacy and governance continued into my university life, as the Student At Large in the Campaigns Committee as I began coordinating promotions and student engagement programs due to which I have a thorough understanding of the responsibilities and proceedings of the SUO. I truly value resourcefulness due to how it plays a part in projects which have deeply instilled a sense of social awareness and purpose in me. It would be thrilling to work with my fellow students and administrators in crafting policies that embody our shared goals and ideals. As a candidate seeking the SUO's Vice-President Internal position, I possess a great deal of enthusiasm towards community service, dedication to student advocacy and a broad array of leadership skills. The transition from driving initiatives at high school to actively participating in university governance has equipped me with listening, collaborating, and advocacy skills. If elected, I would work towards making the student body more resourceful, engaged, and inclusive. Let us together foster a campus culture where students actively participate and where every effort is geared towards a common objective and where every voice is heard.
