

Vice-President Campus Life Candidate

Hey UBC Okanagan!

I'm Guransh Sandhu, a Computer Science student, raised in a small town in the Okanagan called Osoyoos, with roots in Punjab, India. My background helps me connect with students from all walks of life, and I'm passionate about making sure everyone feels heard and represented on campus. I've gained valuable experience working as a Senior Insurance Advisor and in a pharmacy, building strong communication, problem-solving, and organizational skills. In high school, I was actively involved in organizing fundraisers and grad events, which sparked my passion for supporting student initiatives. Now, I'm part of the Campus Life Committee, multiple clubs, and SUO events. I love getting out there, talking to people, and hearing your ideas on how we can make student life better at UBCO. As your VP Campus Life, I will:

- Advocate and work with UBC to bring a major food chain to campus
- Work towards extending Tim Hortons hours and bringing more food options & food trucks
- Push for sleeping pods or improved collegia spaces for students to relax
- Work to improve study spaces, making them cleaner and more accessible
- Advocate to keep the Commons building open past 1 AM for latenight studying
- Utilize the Commons building space more effectively and bring in additional staff to keep it cleaner
- Create a campus-wide Lost & Found to help students reclaim lost items
- Hold regular SUO town halls to ensure transparency and student involvement
- Host SVPRO and Mental Health Awareness events.
- Bring experts to hold TED talks

I want to make Well events more exciting—not just the same old events with different names. This means introducing high-energy experiences, like:

- Silent Discos
- Retro Party Nights
- Boiler Room DJ nights
- Hip-Hop Nights
- EDM festivals
- Humans vs. Zombies (team events)
- UBCO's Got Talent
- Campus Wide Hide-Seeks

And a lot more...

Let's me make Campus Fun—I am FOR YOU, BY YOU!
