Vice-President Internal Candidate

My name is Aakash Singh, and I am a second-year student majoring in Computer Science with a minor in Psychology. My journey to this point has been marked by discipline and dedication, a testament to my years as an international swimmer representing India. This same discipline has fueled my passion for music, particularly the piano. I am also passionate about seeing the world and experiencing the full width and breadth of what society can offer.

I was raised in the vibrant city of Dubai but still cherish my Indian heritage and have grown accustomed to a life amidst diverse cultures, languages, and traditions. This unique upbringing has not only enriched my personal identity but also ingrained in me a deep appreciation for the duality of human experiences and perspectives.

I am not just about individual pursuits, however. My detail-oriented nature ensures that I approach every task with the utmost effort and precision, whether it's a complex coding project or a simple administrative task. Beyond my academic and personal achievements, I thrive on meeting new people and fostering new bonds.

Living between worlds has taught me the importance of understanding, respect, and the ability to find common ground among seemingly disparate groups. It's this perspective that I believe is crucial in the role of VP Internal. I am keen to leverage my multicultural insights to strengthen internal ties within our university community, fostering an environment where every voice is heard and valued, and where diversity is not just acknowledged but celebrated.
