SUO GENERAL ELECTION 2024

Director-at-Large Candidate

During my adolescence I was the laziest child you could ever meet, my grades weren't high, I was slowly turning obese and hygiene wasn't a thing for me. The previous sentence would sound like a lie to people who know me well. The transition to being a really hard worker wasn't easy and took almost all of my teenage years.

Fortunately, by the time I had to sit for my board exams, I had mastered discipline which helped me turn my life around and eventually get accepted into The University of British Columbia

Okanagan. From the bustling avenues of Dubai to the quiet streets of Kelowna. After acing all my first-year courses, I committed to the BSc program of computer science at UBC and a year later decided to minor in mathematics and statistics. Ever since I was a kid, I always loved math, it was a subject that became natural to me.

Beyond my professional pursuits I enjoy playing basketball, boxing and lifting weights. I constantly try to challenge myself to force growth within by either mastering a new skill or reading a book.

The most important thing I value however, is my connection with my family and friends. I love both of them to the fullest even though I find it hard to express it. I am that person in a group that makes a plan and ensures it happens.
