

Arnav Mishra

SUO GENERAL
ELECTION 2024

Vice-President Campus Life Candidate

I'm Arnav Mishra, currently navigating my sophomore year at UBCO with the same finesse I navigate the bustling streets of Mumbai—on most days, anyway. Music isn't just a backdrop to my life; it's more like my personal soundtrack, offering solace and therapy with every note. But let's not forget the real spice of life: diving into new experiences and striking up conversations with strangers. It's like collecting stories, except I don't need a shelf for them. My foray into the professional world has been as eclectic as my Spotify playlists. Picture this: a year spent mastering the art of persuasive emails and calls as a lead generation executive, followed by orchestrating events for Lost in Music in Mumbai.

I once managed to gather over 300 people for an event, and yes, it felt like conducting an orchestra of human enthusiasm. The past two years have been a journey of self-reflection and growth. I've moved from making impulsive decisions to embracing a mindset of forgiveness and kindness, learning to navigate life's challenges with empathy and understanding. Driving offers me a freedom akin to the escapism music provides, a chance to find rhythm in the silence between notes. Challenges? Love them. They're like pop quizzes for life, and I'm all about acing them with a bit of flair, always aiming to UNDERPROMISE and OVERDELIVER. It's like being the underdog in a movie, except I knew I had it in me all along.
